Evolving B20 Agenda: Antalya and Beyond

The aim of this session is three-fold: First, participants will discuss the progress the business community has achieved this year as part of B20 Turkey. Second, participants will discuss how the outcomes of the Turkish B20 cycle should be communicated to the leaders the next day, and how the recommendations should be advocated for after the G20 Antalya Summit. Last but not the least, participants will look at what the business community should expect from the B20, both in terms of collaboration and future topic areas, as well as how the Chinese and future presidencies can advance the global economic agenda. The discussion will run in two parallel roundtable sessions and evolve around ten critical areas.
